You cannot hide all the episode icons... You cannot grab an episode link and hyperlink because they are dynamic...

You can set a specific episode to be the "default episode" when you create it or edit it and use that episode you set as default as your home page once they login. Then to link to other episodes, you must use our episode link tags which are displayed when you click the blue link to expand the additional tag options (just below the tags listed, below the episode content box.)

The episode URL tags must be used to hyperlink to the other episodes from that default "home" episode, because each episode URL is dynamic to be different for every client. So just create your hyperlink but instead of using a link, use the tag in the html for the hyperlink.
